

Mariza Cabral

The proposed rules are not good enough to protect organic material from dangerous contamination (such as by PFAS), and also not good enough for recycling of packaging materials. I urge our state of WA to follow the example proposed by Vermont's Department of Environmental Conservation.