

David Young

I support a Recycling Refund approach. Given that we've had 5+ years of inflation running well over an annual rate of 2%, many WA families are financially stressed. The final refund approach should be structured to minimize the cost to the consumer, which includes making it relatively easy for individuals to get their money back.