

Dan Kovacich

Coleman Oil firmly supports Global Diving and Salvage application for a Primary Response Contractor. They have been responsive to our business and our clients when we have needed them for their services in timely and efficient manner. Their work is extremely thorough and their response personnel are highly trained. The environmental stewardship that Global Diving and Salvage represents is extremely supportive of our maritime community in the Pacific Northwest.