

kay kennell

They need to protect our ecology and make big oil pay to play. Minimizing oil spill accountability would let the oil companies' profits rise while we risk losing what we love. The people that spill the oil should carry insurance to pay the full costs of a clean up which would be an environmental catastrophe. The Orcas thank you for taking this step we must protect the Salish Sea. Thank you.