

Christopher Ball

That is the perfect use of public funds to reuse something that is unusable to private enterprise. This is a wonderful way to reclaim useable space in our community.