Current cleanup only includes the parcels. It is extremely probably that the ground under W. Commodore Way is also contaminated based on history of other cleanup areas in Seattle. Will cleanup of W. Commodore Way take place. It is evident by the I-beams being placed in the ground that the South side of Commodore Time Oil property will be excavated out and that excavation includes the city right of way right up to the driving lanes.

Secondly, I fully feel BNSF should cleanup their portion of the property. What I do not understand is that BNSF property along the track within miles in both directions of Time Oil is also contaminated. Why is BNSF not required to clean up the rest of their surrounding property? There are piles of contained dirt that have been thrown onto the hillsides next to the tracks that contain oil, dirt, debris, rocks, hazardous chemicals that are literally in the backyard of residential homes. BNSF should be required to clean up this property as well.
