

Eric Epple

Arcadis is currently working through a comment document on the updated Vapor Intrusion Guidance for Ecology review. Due to the holiday season and limited staff availability during this time, we request that the public comment period be extended to the first quarter of 2022.