

Mike Benoit

Chevron made the mess - they should clean it ALL up. Not simply cover the mess and walk away. To conclude this process without accurate soil samples is short selling this community. This site in this coastal location is extremely rare and should be as pristine as possible for our children's children's children to use long after we, and Chevron's quarterly profitability statements, are long gone. Hold Chevron accountable to do the right thing.