The developmental pressures in the Edmonds area are tremendous and constant. Given that the Unocal lower yard is a prime candidate for these pressures, are there any reassurances that WSDOT can give the environmental community of Edmonds? It is hoped that the Unocal property will, at completion of cleanup, augment the Edmonds Marsh and become a vitally important factor in chinook salmon habitat restoration. Furthermore, can this transfer of WSDOT property be achieved in a fiscally responsible manner that does not cause the citizens of Edmonds more tax burden?
