

Kathleen Sears

If I understand correctly, for cost savings, Dual Phase Extraction was chosen for removing contamination under and around the Highway 104 Storm drain but it has not been successful in removing the contamination that is bound in the soil. What will it take to get Chevron to agree to remove this contamination?