

Tracy Strylewicz-Crossman

I began rowing on Vancouver Lake in 2002. It was a beautiful lake with eagles, herons, and a natural ecosystem that thrived. Through the years it has had algae, increased temperatures, millfoil. What once was a great place for outdoor recreation is slowly being choked to death. Please consider making the clean up and revitalization of Vancouver Lake a priority. thank you, Tracy Crossman