

Joanne Warner

I speak in full support of Vancouver Lake. As a rower, I have personal experience on the water, and as a nurse I feel committed to assuring that my local environment supports strong public health. The pollution problem is quite serious and any further degradation risks our public health (including humans and endangered species). From an economic lens, Vancouver Lake is an amazing asset to the region. Please assure its healthy future.