

Anonymous Anonymous

If diseased farmed fish spread disease to wild fish by any means the commercial fish farm should be held accountable in a court of law. Just as oil companies are held accountable for any spills into the wild. Fish farms in the open seas and or lakes should not be aloud, because transmission of the diseases are not 100% containable. Stop fish farms in the wild waters.