

Denee Scribner

Cooke should not be allowed to begin farming a highly-domesticated, partially-sterile form of steelhead in their Puget sound net pens. These pens pollute our waters and the fish will escape and cause ecological problems.