

Sheryl Clough

We cannot afford any relaxation of water quality standards in Pacific Northwest waters. The orca and salmon populations are already strained to breaking points. Additionally, there is the risk of "farm fish" escaping their pens and spreading disease to wild steelhead populations.

Please deny these applications by Cooke to degrade our precious, and irreplaceable, ecosystem. Thank you for your consideration.