

D Selig

As a medical professional of 30 years, I am concerned about Cooke Aquaculture having fish pens for steelhead in Puget Sound. The effluence of antibiotics and other pollutants will adversely affect the health of native fish, our water quality and the health of our community. The beautiful natural resource of this water should not be their toilet .