

Susan Crampton

I myself am fully occupied at this time with outdoor work related to salmon and Pacific NW watersheds, have irregular internet access, and don't remember if I made a comment to this particular stage of the Cooke Aquaculture proposals. Better twice than not at all. The short comment is wrong project, in the wrong place, in the wrong times. Cooke has a very poor business record. For further particulars, I fully support the science and advocacy from Wild Fish Conservancy.