Complaints of excess sea lion presence in this comment stream. Net pens that have been producing seafood for 40 years are suddenly empty because of politics (not science). While waiting to be restocked, empty walkways attract sea lions from miles around resulting in excess noise for riparian land owners. If lease is switched to native sterile Rainbow trout and net pens can "work" again, excess presence of sea lions will go away. Be in favor in order to protect wild fish and the US's seafood security.
