I completely support the approval for Cooke Aquaculture Pacific NPDES permit application to raise steelheads in Washington State. Cooke Aquaculture is a full line seafood supplier committed to sustainable seafood products both farmed & wild. I strongly believe that Farmed sustainable fish farming plays a very important role in our Local & World protein supply. Cooke provides many jobs all over the world while caring for their communities & while contributing to the economy. Experiencing the Global Pandemic that we are going through currently, shows us how important the support of local Companies like Cooke Aquaculture is.
