

Mark MASCIAROTTE

In the interest of time and brevity, I shall keep these comments short and to the point.

As an avid angler, conservationist and one-time natural resources officer (in another state), I am vehemently opposed to allowing Cooke Aquaculture -- a company with an appalling record -- to be given permission to modify its permit to allow steelhead production in its net pens in the Puget Sound.