

Vicci Laird

I am writing to express my support for Cooke Aquaculture's plans to farm sterile steelhead trout in Washington state.

As a family company we believe that locally produced food, local jobs and local economic activity in the communities where we grow and catch our fish is extremely important, especially during this challenging global pandemic.

I fully support Cooke Aquaculture Pacific NPDES permit applications to raise steelhead trout in Washington State.