

Brett Raemer

We need to support locally produced food sources, and lower the amount of seafood imported at all levels. With what is currently happening local control of our food supply is critical.