

Scott Morrison

I am concerned for water quality and fish diseases. Caged cultured fish are susceptible to many different fish diseases and parasites, and my concerns are for wild fish, during all of their life stages, that may swim near these structures, could get infected. Also, and cultured fish that get out could also infect our wild fish. How will this be addressed?