

James Beck

I am very concerned about the waste produced by the massive number of fish raised and kept in net pens. There is no way for the massive amount of waste produced by the fish to be "flushed" out to sea, so it accumulates in the canals affecting water quality. I beg you not to allow more net pen permits.