

Neal Hoffberg

Cook Aquaculture nor any other artificial company should never be allowed to build new or maintain existing fish pens in the Puget Sound or other Northwest waters. Existing pens have already done irreparable damage to the environment and more importantly, native fish.