

David Dexter

As we only have a single planet that is habitual, at least as far as we know, everything possible should be done to protect it!