

Gary Coller

As a home owner I must pay a sewage disposal charge to get rid of dirty household water. The same holds for solid household waste. A cruise ship accumulates similar wastes during excursions in Canadian and Alaskan waters. The native aquatic plant and animal life should not have to tolerate living in such filth if it is indiscriminately dumped into the ocean. The real cost of a cruise must include proper disposal of these wastes at approved facilities.