

Deirdre Barringer

Taking care of the earth isn't just a choice now it is imperative. We are at a crisis point and there is no more room for careless actions. There shouldn't be a chance to ruin the earth further. Changes must be made very soon, the old way is too destructive.