

Anonymous Anonymous

Ban scrubbers! There is no question that they harm marine life and pollute our oceans in irreversible ways. The cruise ship industry is not essential and should be held to high standards if they are to continue to operate in our oceans and waterways. For-profit companies should pay for the damage that they cause to marine life! We do not have time to continue to allow industries to pollute our planet.