

stephen hopkins

Any pollution, no matter how it is generated on board ship should not be dumped in the ocean under any circumstances; but most especially in narrow congested waters.