

Holly Dowling

It seems clear that our oceans are becoming increasingly polluted. Cruise ships are notorious for dumping their garbage and sewage into our oceans without repercussion. This must stop now! There must be regulations that require the ships deal with their garbage and sewage in an ecological manner and NOT use the ocean as their dumping ground. It's time for this practice to be outlawed and steep fines must be levied.