

Anonymous Anonymous

We all understand what is going on here. Disregard makes money and that equals profit for the few. But you know the science, and have the moral obligation to think about future impacts and your obligation to safeguard The Public Trust. Pollutants going into the air and water are equally bad, and sooner or later the consequences of contamination will endanger all life, human and other. Please do the moral thing and think about the future of our planet. Thank you