

Christine Kuhlman

No one has the right to desecrate and pollute waters this world--there are so many other places and ways to get rid of waste--and decreasing it is one of those ways ---we have the technology--we must start having the heart---