

Donna Thelander

The cruise industry is incredibly detrimental to ocean health in many ways, but allowing them to continue to use such a polluting fuel as long as they "scrub" it is unconscionable. Even more so is allowing them to dump this horribly toxic (and unnecessary, upgrade to cleaner fuel!!) wastewater directly into the ocean. Please ban "scrubbers" and pressure the cruise industry to be more ethical...they won't do it themselves.