

Susan Lanes

The Cruise Ship MOU is not substantially comprehensive being voluntary. Good stewardship of the oceans that cruise ships ply for their trade would be routine if voluntarism were enough. The effects of pollution has been well documented for years, so as in other businesses there must be consequences for irresponsible actions.