

Janet Deaver-Pack

I think cruise ships should be banned from dumping any trash at all in the oceans. We're dealing with more than enough wildlife-killing substances in the world's oceans and seas from the land. Ocean-going vessels should not be allowed to dump anything toxic, whether solid or liquid, in the world's precious waters.