

Doug Herren

I am writing to urge you to ban scrubbers. We must hold cruise lines to much better standards for the environmental degradation they have been party to for so many years. This would be just one important step towards making this industry more accountable.