

Richita Anderson

Waste water discharge is bad for the Orcas, the water quality as such and all life in the immediate and surrounding areas. The cruise ships need to step up their game and spend the money to process waste responsibly!