

Esther Friedman

We need to do much more to protect these magnificent and endangered animals. Cruise ships should be held to higher standards and be barred from certain areas to protect orcas.