

michael klein

I urge you to end this practice that trades one fouling of the air for a fouling of the ocean. There needs to be found a solution that is not trading damage to the environment, damage to the survival of the creatures of the earth, increasing so many more further endangered daily. Let this fouled water be instead carried to a treatment plant and offloaded so it can be cleansed for re-entry/reuse onto the world's water supply.

Michael Klein
Akron, Ohio