

kent mollohan

As one of many areas we liked to visit, please do everything in your power to eliminate cruise ship discharges in these sensitive environmental areas. I'm not visiting to see the ships: it's the wildlife that attracts us. Even the sightseeing boats are adding to the difficulties, I realize, but it's one way we can actually see Orcas and other wildlife creatures. I've never taken a trip on a large cruise ship, likely never will. Do your best for wildlife.