

Loren Wieland

Washington state hosts some of the most beautiful water in the continental United States. The state also has the obligation to take care and provide stewardship of these beautiful areas. Clean up the cruise ship industry by eliminating scrubbers and dumping into your beautiful waters.

I was fortunate enough to spend a good deal of time in the Puget Sound area scuba diving and snow skiing all in the same day. You have some of the most dutiful areas. Please, protect them.