

Michael MacPherson

The human race is dedicated to destroying the planet, people take from nature and give back garbage, pollution, and have caused millions of animals to go extinct. I truly believe everyone, in every vessel, and in every vehicle needs to take their garbage and waste with them to properly dispose of them to the point that garbage and any kind of waste does not get into any eco system.