

Robert Jensen

The Department of Ecology should not allow cruise ships to discharge waste from their ships into the waters of Puget Sound and the waters off our coast. To do so, in the form of memorandum of understanding, is to weaken the state water quality standards; in order to permit these ships, which constitute one of the major point sources of pollution in our waters, to ply and unnecessarily pollute these waters.