

April Warwick

Make the cruise ships replace scrubbers with a system that really works. As an industry that makes it money on the beauty of nature, it should know that it can not destroy that beauty with it's garbage and expect business as normal. Make the cruise ships respect and protect nature, as we only have one planet & chance to do it correctly and we are off to a very poor start.