

Christine Dingeman

I personally wouldn't want to swim in water contaminated with combustion waste! Haven't we learned yet that what we dump in our waters doesn't magically disappear? Cruise ships already dump enough sewage and other waste in our oceans. Let's ensure they start to clean up their act instead of increasing their negative effects