

James Lieb

Cruise ships dumping waste in the ocean is nothing new. They do it up and down the west coast. Central California barred them from Monterey Bay years ago for dumping their sewage in the bay which is protected marine preserve. This stuff is worse.

Clean up or go out of business.