

Sara Foszcz

Mother Gia is crying for attention - we are responsible for her safety and well being! Big business has to own the responsibility of its waste - or stop creating it. We are killing the planet that sustains us. Leaders with vision that create only what is a win-win-win are what the world needs. We need our oceans and all the life that resides in it!