

Shirlene Harris

Wastewater discharges should not be made close to shore which would also mean not discharging into state waters. Those discharges are harmful for humans, the environment and every living thing!