

David Klingensmith

Clean up all of our actions NOW! We have been whining, complaining, and criticizing about this for how many years now, and here we still are making a mess out of nearly every potential possibility. How would you feel if everyone kept dumping their garbage in your home environment?